OHIO LEADS

COLUMBUS, O.—Ohio is a leading producer of vegetables under glass. This was revealed in a bulletin issued by the Ohio department of agriculture, which pointed out that Cleveland is the hothouse center of the United States with approximately 250 acres producing under glass. Ashabula with 60 acres, Toledo with 80 acres, Cincinnati with 50 acres and with 60 acres scattered in other sections gives Ohio approximately 500 acres producing vegetable crops under glass.

What Do You Know About POLITICS?

1. How did this man figure recently in the political news of a key state?
2. What U. S. President actively sought a third term after serving two full terms?
3. Name (a) the President's son who is a candidate for President; (b) the President's son; and (c) the President's grandson, who became President.
4. What U. S. envoy made news by a pro-Alles speech abroad, and later said he'd run for the Senate?
5. What is politically significant about the new movie, "A New Tomorrow?"

Each full question counts 20. A score of 80 is good.

A party was held at the Ohio theater following the banquet.

SERVICES ARRANGED FOR GALION STUDENT

Rites for Senior Will Be Held Friday.

Special to The Star

GALION, O., May 17 — Funeral services were completed today for Richard Danner, 18, popular member of the 1940 graduating class of Galion high school whose unexpected death occurred Wednesday.

All extra activities of Senior high school have been postponed. Services were completed when the youth's father, Dewey Danner, arrived here late Wednesday night from Leavenworth, Kan., where he has been servicing a communication system for the North Electric Mfg. Co. of Galion.

The funeral will be Friday with private services at 2 p. m. at the home of the parents, and at 2:30 p. m. at the United Brethren church where Dick was a member. Rev. O. E. Knepp, pastor of the church, will be assisted in the services by Rev. W. H. Robinson of the First Methodist church. Burial will be made in Fairview cemetery. At the close of the basketball season Danner was elected captain of the team. All boys of the athletic department of the school met Wednesday after school to plan a tribute, and school officials stated that a page of the 1940 Spy, school year book, will be dedicated to his memory.

Danner was injured Tuesday while working in the machine shop at the high school, and died Wednesday at 8:30 a. m.

Among the activities cancelled this week at the school is the Thespian society play, "Night Must Fall," which will be given May 10 instead of Thursday night of this week; the baseball game at Bucyrus, Thursday; golf match at Mansfield, Friday; Galion's participation in the annual band festival at Upper Sandusky Friday, and at the Ashland N. C. O. track meet Saturday and the H-Y Sweetheart party which had been slated for Saturday night.

Memory Goes Back 11 Years With Senior Class Play Set for May 9

First customers for the school senior class play are the Marion men who appeared in the "Robert E. Sherwood's Husband," when it

"How do you rate Jones?"

"If I become weak... run-down... some guy will get my job!"

THEREFORE I reason sensibly... the Tonic to take for my run-down condition is S.S.S. I build back my body and blood strength... stimulate my appetite and soon I feel like myself again.

In my work sturdy health is everything... I must keep fit and on top of my job to hold it and pick up my weekly pay envelope.

If you feel tired... let down... or low in spirits, in the absence of an organic trouble, S.S.S. may be just what you need to snap back into your good self.

You owe it to your self to begin on S.S.S. today—it is economy in regaining health... economy to purchase the big size S.S.S. Tonic, 55¢, 55¢, 55¢.

S.S.S. TONIC

was presented by the senior class of 1929.

The play, a romantic satire with setting suggestive of the Balkans, was selected by Miss Lucile Foreman, director, for this year's class after a seemingly endless search for a suitable vehicle.

This year's senior cast will give its interpretation on Thursday afternoon and night, May 9, at the Palace theater.

The role of king and queen will be played by George Lane and June Walters.

And 11 Years Ago
Eleven years ago the king was James Reed, now Attorney Reed, with offices on East Center street, and a wife and two children at home at 624 Cherry street. The queen who dominates her gentle, checker-playing husband, was played by Jane Guthery who is now Mrs. Fred Thomson of Forest Hills, Long Island, N. Y.

The role of Phipps, the king's faithful servant and checker partner, was played in 1929 by John Artopoulos who is now a traveling salesman after a successful period of employment with the Marion-Reserve Power Co. His role will be filled this year by Grant Mouser III.

Cupid had his share in the success of two members of the 1929 cast. Miss Evelyn Bacheiser and Vance Harden are married and have a daughter. They now live in Bowling Green, O.

The Other Players
Here's a brief resume of what's become of others in the 1929 production:

Jane Bradley, now Mrs. Louis Meister, Jr., of Piquette, has two daughters; Miss Dorothy Bush, now Mrs. W. T. Galt of Geneva, has a daughter; Fred Chapman, now married and living in Marion; Harry A. Dorsey, now married and living at Lakewood, has a daughter; Charles Elcker, married and living in Marion; Victor A. Gillis, member of the Marion police force, married and has a daughter; Alma Ruth Jacoby, now Mrs. John Gillis of Marion, has a daughter; Richard McAninch, married and living in Cleveland; Frederick Merchant, now Dr. Merchant, completing his senior internship in surgery at Lakeside hospital in Cleveland; Nyla Miller, now living in Cincinnati; James Shipley, now in Bay City, Mich.; Ann Schoenlaub, now Mrs. Carl Knirk of Rocky River, O.; Ho Smallwood, now Mrs. Kenneth Tobin of Marion, has a son and two daughters; Helen Richardson, now married and living in the east; Jane Smith, now Mrs. John Peacock, has a son; Mary Jo Stafford, now of the Thomas A. Edison Junior High School locally; Faye Zuppan, now Mrs. Ronald Keenan of Marion, has a son and a daughter; Gerald Zimmer, now Rev. Zimmer of the Evangelical mission station at Tungien, Kweichow, China, married and has a son.

LESSEES OF UNIVERSITY LANDS LOSE IN COURT

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 1.—Lessees of Miami university lands lost in the Ohio supreme court today in their fight to prevent collection of taxes on properties which they hold under 99 year leases renewable forever.

Butler county courts had held against them in a suit brought by Louis C. Cordes to enjoin Treasurer Joseph H. Dubois from collecting local taxes and assessments which had been levied against the households. The supreme court dismissed the appeal on the ground that no debatable constitutional question was involved.

Cordes contended the leases provided that the lands should be free from state taxes and that local taxes also were prohibited because they were levied by state authority. The lands in question came into possession of the university through various congressional and state grants.

NEVADA PLAY FRIDAY

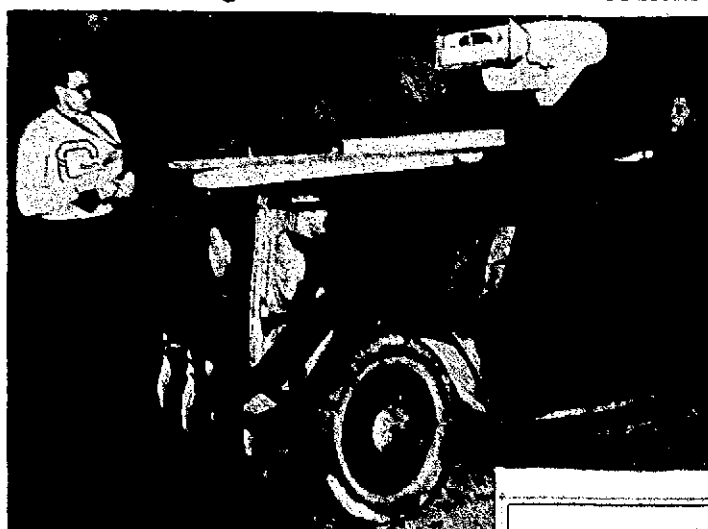

Special to The Star

NEVADA—The seniors of Nevada High school will present "Three Days of Grace" Friday night at the school at 8. Included in the cast are Muriel Vent, Harold Kinney, Beulah Fritz, Evelyn Stemen, Jo Anna Spiegel, Richard Reinhart, Gerald Dible, Muriel Keller, James Smalley, Bill Frost and Mary Armbruster.

NEVADA CLUB MEETS

NEVADA—The Current Events club met Monday with Mrs. Henrietta Matz. The program was a discussion of current events.

Marion College Senior Studies Traffic Problem

A study of relationship between accidents at night and visibility has just been completed for his thesis by John J. Neidhart of Marion, a senior at Case School of Applied Science, according to a report from the university campus. Making the study with the Marion student, who is pictured above seated behind the wheel of the apparatus-laden automobile, was Robert S. Rogge of Findlay, also a senior.

Several hundred hours of sleep were sacrificed to make the survey, which was started March 26. With a borrowed "street lighting evaluator" the students spent every clear night at their task of measuring visibility.

At one corner the students made 900 readings. The normal total has been 50 readings and the smallest 30. Their conclusions will be ready in time for the Case open house observance on Friday.

Mr. Neidhart, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Neidhart of South State street, will go to Pittsburgh following his graduation in an electrical engineering course, to begin a seven months' training course with the Westinghouse Electric company. Upon the completion of the study he will either remain with the company in East Pittsburgh or go to the Bloomfield, N. J. plant. His work will be in the illumination department.

RICHWOOD PUPIL WINS OHIO MUSIC CONTEST

Special to The Star

RICHWOOD—John William Drake, a junior in the Richwood High school, received a rating of superior and was awarded state championship silver medal and state music certificate in last Friday's state high school solo and ensemble contests sponsored by the Ohio Music Education association at Oberlin. He competed in the senior contest. His accompaniment was played by Jeanne Winter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Winter, a sophomore. The national contest for winners in the voice competition will be held at Springfield, Ill., on May 10.

The American Bridge club was entertained by Mrs. D. J. Weber Monday. After refreshments served by the hostess, contract bridge was played. Guests included Mrs. Paul Arthur of Springfield and Mrs. Kenneth Keever of Richwood. Prizes were won by Mrs. Kenneth Wood, Mrs. Keever and Mrs. S. A. Layman.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Katharine's Skillful Hand-ling Helps Madge To Relax Nerves and Finally Get to Sleep.

"WELL," Lillian exclaimed in surprise as Katharine took the cup of steaming milk from her hand. "Of all the high-handed, high-hatted dames this side of—"

"Soft pedal!" Katharine answered easily. "You know you're mighty glad to see me, so please give me room."

She came toward the bed, moving her arms in a burlesque of an athlete "warming up," and I knew what she was planning to do for me. But I spoke only two words. "The children?" I asked. "Safe as seven churches," she said. "I parked Miss Whitlock with them until I got back. She volunteered to come over here in my stead and give you first aid treatment, but I sort of wanted to tend to you myself. So turn over with your face in the pillow."

She flashed me an affectionate smile, and as I turned prone at her command, I felt the little lump in my throat which Katharine's loyal devotion always brings to me.

Pathetic Past
It takes courage and a lofty purpose for a woman to keep cheery and sweet and tender despite the fact she is being slowly crucified upon a cross of neglect erected by her husband.

This is my beloved kinawoman, Katharine, and, as my thoughts flashed back over the years of her loneliness, I felt my heart torn again between my life-long affectionate loyalty to Jack Bickell, Katharine's husband, and my anger against him for the way in which he had treated the woman who had sacrificed so much for him and been given so little in return.

A nurse in the World War, she had married Jack, a wounded war veteran, the romantic ideal of her very young girlhood, when she fell in love with his photograph in her brother's college memorabilia. They had been wonderfully happy during the months of Jack's convalescence. Then slowly had come to light the queer twisted kinks of mentality, so unlike the strong character which had been Jack's, and the beginning of Katharine's long tragedy. Now he was in the wilds of South America—Katharine had not heard from him in months—and I knew that her love for him as well as her loyalty was being undermined by his long neglect.

Healthful Thumping
But no hint of her dolor betrayed itself in her cheery running comments as her skilled fingers began to manipulate the flesh covering the taut nerves of my head, neck and shoulders. "If I hurt you, yell," she said. "Not that I'll stop thumping you, but it will help you relax, and that's what you need. Lil, will you watch that milk, please? I think it's going to stay hot enough, but if it doesn't you'll have to heat some more and get another sedative."

"That's where you're wrong, wise little dame," Lillian gasped. "I haven't put the sedative in yet. I only have to reheat the milk on this tiny grill in the corner of my necessary, which I doubt, unless you mean to keep on knocking that poor darling until she faints and dies."

"No, only until she relaxes," Katharine answered, fingers leaving my neck, gliding on my back. "I will be 'topping' you."

night, and awakened only at my usual hour. As I lifted myself on my pillow to look at my bedside clock, I saw Lillian smiling lazily at me.

"I was terribly tempted to call you," she said. "I felt a virtuous myself about waking without an alarm clock—Katharine said she'd steal in and wake me in time to get you up—that I wanted you to share my glory. But I didn't have the heart to wake you. The Seven Sleepers had nothing on you last night."

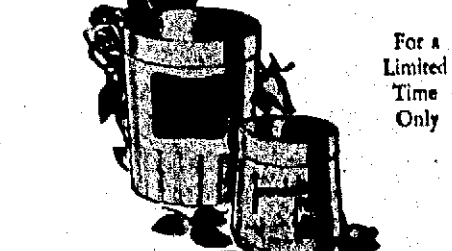

"I trust I didn't sleep soundly enough to disturb you," I said smiling.

"No, you didn't snore," she said with a guilty grin. "At least you weren't working the buzz saw when I came to bed late last night, and you weren't this morning when I awakened. In between, I know not. I was to soundly asleep myself."

My attention focused on the phrase "late last night," and I put a corollary question. "Did Harry get back?" I asked. (Copyright, 1939, K. F. S. Inc.)

CAMPAIGN PLATFORM OUTLINED BY FLYNN

Democrat of Sandusky Offers Plan at Birthday Dinner.

By The Associated Press
SANDUSKY, O., May 2.—James F. Flynn, candidate for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, today stood on a platform which calls for:

Revision of the state industrial commission, provisions for vocational training for rural youth in Ohio, allocation of more funds for the state conservation division, protection of the farmer from agricultural imports from other states, revision of road laws and decrease in taxes on intangible property.

Flynn, a Sandusky attorney, offered his program last night at a dinner given for him on his 58th birthday. Several hundred friends and political followers attended. In Cleveland William J. Kennedy, one of Flynn's opponents, sent statements to 2,500 Cuyahoga county party workers in which he said "the gubernatorial primary boils down to a contest between Martin L. Davey and myself."

He cited figures showing Davey's defeat in the 1938 gubernatorial primary in Cuyahoga county by 62,000 votes while Kennedy, then a candidate for secretary of state, carried the same territory by 70,000.

Davey, speaking in Zanesville, reiterated his charge of $25,000,000 damage to state highways due to what he termed Gov. Bricker's "lousy economy and inefficiency." The former governor was scheduled to speak at Ironton tonight.

Herbert S. Bigelow, candidate for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator, said in Cincinnati that he would not support any of the candidates for the gubernatorial nomination.

"Not one candidate for governor," he said, "has made an acceptable answer to the Bigelow plan pension committee and none will be supported."

Cincinnati Councilman Robert Wilson, recently active in behalf of Mayor Harold H. Burton of Cleveland for the Republican senatorial nomination, declared Ed D. Schorr "should resign as chairman of the state Republican executive committee."

Schorr, Wilson said, "attempted to read Burton out of the party." The state chairman recently declared he would support Rep. Dudley A. White of Norwalk for the nomination.

From Washington Senator Vic Donahue (D-Ohio) declared he saw "no necessity for entering into the gubernatorial fight in Ohio."

CLUSTERS of yellow roses and black and yellow tapers emphasized the Beta Sigma Phi sorority colors of black and gold at the dinner which preceded initiation and installation ceremonies held by Ohio Eta chapter last evening in the presidential suite at Hotel Harding.

During the dinner hour Beta Sigma Phi songs were sung by Miss Martha McGee, Mrs. O. B. Morrison, Mrs. Charles McCollly and Mrs. Paul Thomas. Miss McGee, president of the chapter, welcomed the pledges, who responded with a song. In the group were Miss Betty Ann Baker, Miss Margaret Gray, Mrs. Russell Adams and Mrs. Clarence W. Snyder. Informal talks were given by Mrs. Woodrow Frost, Miss Mildred Collins and Mrs. Jack Danner.

Miss McGee, who retired as president, installed the pledges in a candle light ceremony, and also presided for the installation of the following officers: Miss Mildred Collins, president; Mrs. Jack Danner, vice president; Mrs. Paul Thomas, treasurer; Mrs. Charles McCollly, recording secretary, and Miss Elizabeth Gray, corresponding secretary. Miss Collins announced the following committees: program, Miss McGee, chairman; Mrs. John Artopous, Mrs. Charles McCollly, Mrs. LaVerne Pfeiffer and Miss Josephine Haley; rush, Mrs. Jack Danner, chairman; Miss Ruth Ellen Mounts, Miss Betty Ann Baker and Miss Elizabeth Gray; social, Mrs. Woodrow Frost, chairman; Mrs. Paul Thompson, Mrs. C. Reds Snap Dodgers' Winning Streak, 9-2; Indians Routed by A's, 5-1

Brooklyn Boys Face Real Test Now; Red Sox Back in Tie for Lead.

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The real test for the Brooklyn Dodgers will start today. The team, as ridiculous as it sounds, because an era in the history of the game has been completed—a miracle of nine consecutive victories, unbroken by a no-hitter—now they are just another team in the National League.

Every one knew, of course, the Dodgers would lose a game sooner or later and every one knows that they will lose a lot more over the long, arduous season. The real test is whether they show the same proficiency for losing streaks as they have for winning.

The awakening—beaten 9-2 by Cincinnati—certainly was rude. Hugh Casey was going to be pitching a no-hitter for these innings and the writers were wondering what superlatives they could say about a second no-hitter that they hadn't used the day before for Tex Carleton.

Poor Old Casey
Then it was boom-boom-boom-boom so fast in the fourth inning that Casey was out of the game before he had a chance to get Casey off the mound before the Reds had made six runs and eight hits.

Bucky Walters held the Dodgers to six hits for his third victory without defeat.

The rest of the National League was roused out yesterday, but the American had a full day.

The New York Yankees got back in the groove with a well-pitched five-hit game by Monte Pearson giving them a 5-3 victory over the St. Louis Browns.

The Philadelphia Athletics stopped the Cleveland Indians, 5-1, on the effective seven-hit hurling of Nelson Potter, with Wally Moses and Bob Johnson helping with home runs.

Manager Oscar Vitt, his pitching plans upset by sore arms and ineffectiveness, nominated rookie Mike Nymick to hurl the rubber game of the Philadelphia series today. Johnny Babich was due for the A's.

Nymick, the six-foot eight right hander, stopped Detroit, 2-0, in his first start. A decision over the Athletics would virtually clinch a regular assignment for the Weirton (W. Va.) youth, at least for the next few weeks.

Allen and Bob Feller, rated two of the Indians' most dependable flingers, each has pitched two of the Indians' four defeats. Vitt's problems have been increased by the arm troubles of Mel Harder and Al Milnar.

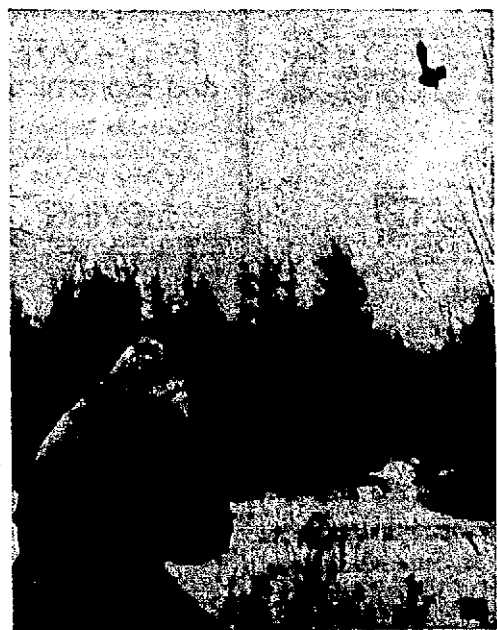

Mack Gets Homer
Ray Mack's seventh-inning home run was the only score the Indians were able to produce with their seven hits off Potter.

This setback enabled the Boston Red Sox to move back into a tie for first place with a 12-4 conquest of the Chicago White Sox. Boston benefitted from a 12-hit offensive led by Jimmie Fox with his fifth home run and the notable relief pitching of rookie Herb Hash, who allowed one hit in five innings.

The Washington Senators gave away a 10-7 game to the Detroit Tigers, who made four errors in trying not to accept the generous gesture. But Washington's four pitchers prevailed, giving 15 walks and 10 hits.

Finnish Trick Fools Crows

Taking a camouflage tip from Finland's ski troops Arthur and Robert Brann, Maine hunters, outfitted themselves in white sheets and shot more than 200 crows. Their costumes blended so well with the snow that they were able to call crows to within a few feet as they lay motionless in fields. Here's a direct hit.

ASHLEY BOY INJURED IN FALL FROM WAGON

Special to The Star

ASHLEY—Donald Peak, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Peak of the Cole road suffered a severe head injury Monday while he and his father were driving a team of mules hitched to a wagon near the W. H. General Excavator Bowlers Set Pace for Recreation League; Elks Loop Teams in Action.

General Excavator plumed an insurrection at Wednesday night's Recreation league meeting. The second-place Diggers copied three straight at the expense of the Nu-Way Shoe Repairmen, whittling the paracletes' lead to a brace of games. The Diggers had all of the high scores, B. Fields leading the way with 279 and 656, and the quietest collecting 1,009 and 2,875.

Lecturing Knights won two of three to protect the long lead in the Elks league race, boasting a six-game advantage at the close of Wednesday night competition. High scores were: Steinmetz, 227

MARYSVILLE VENDING MACHINE CASE ENDS

Vandalia Man Pleads Guilty to Securities Law Violation.

MARYSVILLE, May 2—The state's charges of securities law violation in the leasing of vending machines was cleaned up here late yesterday by Common Pleas Judge R. L. Cameron.

H. E. Randall, 66, of Vandalia pleaded guilty to charges of selling securities without a license and selling unlicensed securities and was placed on probation for five years. During this time he is not to sell anything in the nature of securities. He was also ordered to pay costs of $67.50. Randall had previously pleaded not guilty.

A similar indictment against Robert D. Jones, 20, of Dayton was nolleed at the request of Prosecutor William J. Porter who said Jones had been the victim of circumstances and did not know what the others in the vending machine business were doing.

Both men had been free on bond since their arrest in January. Samuel P. Sloane of Dayton is now serving a term, scheduled to run up to 15 years, in Ohio penitentiary. Officials charged he was the leader of the three.

The men were accused in connection with the leasing of vending machines, mostly to elderly people, on promises of lucrative returns.

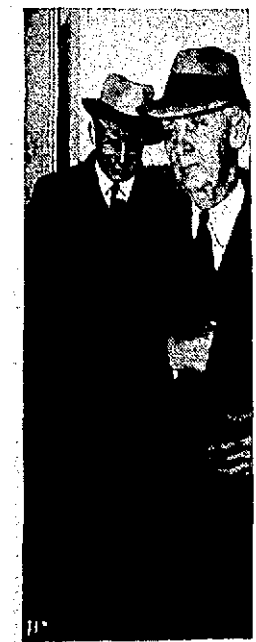

BULLET WOUND FATAL TO ZANESVILLE OFFICIAL

ZANESVILLE, O., May 2— Cecil W. Tanner, 32, city treasurer and assistant bank cashier, died last night of a bullet wound. Coroner Ray McDaniel said today he had not prepared a verdict. Loren Hillis, an ambulance driver, reported a revolver was found beside Tanner.

SENTENCED TO PRISON

STEUBENVILLE, O., May 2—Mike Lamanita, 23, is under sentence today to one to 10 years imprisonment for perjury before the grand jury which investigated the slaying of Mrs. James Sauer, who was stabbed on a street here. Her husband, 21, was acquitted of murder. Lamanita died here with her shortly before the slaying.

SANDSTONE WINS

WASHINGTON, May 2—Ohio and Indiana sandstone and limestone interests were victorious today in their opposition to a bill in the house which proposed to require marble facing on all new federal buildings in the northwest triangle here. The buildings and grounds committee tabled it by a vote of 11 to 7.

Scientists in War on Disease Use "Super Separator"

WASHINGTON—A large metal cylinder which spins with stellar velocity in a vacuum chamber without visible means of support is being used at the University of Virginia in the study of new chemicals and the preparation of vaccines to fight disease.

Dr. J. W. Beams, an authority on the use of ultra-centrifuges, of super cream separators, told the American Physical society that the newest development in his high speed rotors was an electrically-driven machine whose speed is limited only by the binding strength of the metals used.

The Virginia scientists "foals" a seven and one-half pound cylinder inside a vacuum container by supporting it magnetically. Thus it seems to be defying the law of gravity by standing in thin air.

Then, he explained, by applying current to an electrical motor armature wound around the outside of the container, it is possible to whirl the cylinder to the top speed it will stand. Friction is virtually absent, the vacuum constituting an almost ideal bearing.

The cylinder has been spun at speeds of 1,000 revolutions a second, using only a one-half horsepower motor. This power, little more than that of an electric clock, can then be reduced and the speed of the rotor maintained.

With the machine, he said, it is possible to separate the isotopes, or twin and triplet forms of the basic elements. The isotopes have the same mass but different weights and thus the heavier parts fly outward first and any fraction of the whole can be drawn off separately in the same way that cream is separated from milk.

It is also useful in the preparation of vaccines, since other tests have shown that the machine will yield fractions of blood which contain the most active portions bearing disease-fighting antibodies.

CRY OF FIRE CAUSES STAMPEDE IN THEATER

FARRELL, Pa., May 2—A score of children were hurt, six seriously, when a false cry of "fire" started a stampede from a crowded theater here last night.

An unidentified patron in the balcony shouted the false alarm while the audience, including 350 to 400 children and 100 adults, was watching the Shirley Temple movie, "Blue Bird."

All doors of the theater were quickly thrown open, but the crowd headed for the front entrance.

Scrambling and fighting children brushed aside attendants and jammed in the doorways. Some fainted and fell in the rush.

Ten were sent to a hospital in Sharon and six of them were detained for further treatment.

CANTON CONGRESSMAN URGES RELIEF CHANGE

WASHINGTON, May 2—Rep. Jim Secombe (R-Ohio) advocates a new relief program to include local administration.

He said yesterday he would seek congressional approval during hearings on the new appropriation for the works project administration.

Other sections of his plan would set up a uniform wage in industrial states, including Ohio, and eliminate requirements that a worker must take 30 days off duty after 18 months of employment.

Secombe said his program was the result of an inquiry in Tuscarawas county, Ohio, indicating administrative defects.

WEATHER DELAYS MARBLE TOURNEY

Y. M. C. A. Contest Scheduled To Be Resumed Next Week.

Deciding that Old Man Winter shouldn't have a hand in selecting Marion's marble champ, Y. M. C. A. officials yesterday afternoon postponed all remaining games in the citywide marble tournament until next week when they hope—weather conditions will be more suitable.

The citywide marble tournament for girls, which has been following the same building schedule as the marbles tournament, also was postponed.

If the tournaments are resumed as now planned, elimination games will follow the same schedule next week they would have followed this week, and the city finals will be held at Central Junior High school Saturday morning, May 11.

HAROLD HAUGHN NEW HEAD OF EAGLES

Officers To Be Installed at June 5 Meeting.

Harold Haughn was elected president of Buckeye Aerie No. 327, F. O. Eagles, last night when 325 members and guests met at the hall. Other officers elected are: Gene Williams, vice president; N. G. Irwin, chaplain; O. G. Ebling, conductor; John A. Abel, secretary; P. H. Neidig, treasurer; Charles Ward, inside guard; Forest Roush, outside guard; George Lehner, trustee for three years.

The officers will be installed June 5.

Delegates to the state convention in Dayton in June were named as follows: C. L. Pace, Floyd Arthur, Gene Williams, Harry W. Mounds, Harold Haughn and N. G. Irwin. Alternates are Frank M. Taylor, Sam McKechnie, P. H. Neidig and K. D. Whitman.

Mayor Sharr spoke on the need for the fire department and relief tax levies which will be proposed at the May primaries.

Luncheon was served after the business session.

Announcement was made the Eagles will sponsor a hardball team in the N. C. O. league with Bill Darrill as manager and also a softball team.

CHINESE REPORT BIG JAP DRIVE SMASHED

HONGKONG, May 2—Chinese military dispatches reported today that Chinese troops had smashed the big Japanese offensive launched last month in the northern part of Huen province, southern Hupoh and northern Kiangsi.

CHUNGKING, May 2—Casualties running into the hundreds and extensive material damage resulted from a severe Japanese bombing of Kweichow province, the capital of Kweichow province in southwestern China, on April 30, according to telephone reports received here today.

PARIS, May 2—France protested today to Japan today for the fourth time over renewed aerial bombings of the French-owned Hanoi-Kimling railroad in southwestern China, a long-standing source of far eastern tension.

CINCINNATI, May 2—Raigh H. Quinn, 47, general manager of the Cincinnati Enquirer, died today in Christ hospital.

ACCUSE OHIOAN IN U. S. CHARGES

Congressman Faces Investigation by Post Office Authorities.

CLEVELAND, May 2—U. S. District Attorney Emerich B. Freed asked Washington authorities today to investigate charges—filed under an obscure federal statute—that Congressman Michael J. Kirwan of Youngstown solicited campaign contributions from two postmasters in 1938.

The charges are contained in four warrants issued by Justice of the Peace Howard Burke of Saybrook township, Ashland county, on affidavits filed by Joseph W. Gottlieb of Youngstown.

"We forwarded a transcript of the proceedings to the attorney general," said Francis Kavanagh, assistant U. S. district attorney. "We suggested an investigation by proper officials, probably postal authorities, as to the facts alleged."

"The findings will determine whether the matter shall be submitted to a federal grand jury," Burke filed his records in federal court by mail yesterday. Attaches said it was the first time in district records that a justice of the peace had issued warrants charging federal violations.

Kavanagh said Burke invoked an 1898 statute which grants justices limited jurisdiction in federal affairs. The law provides that a justice may cause the accused to be arrested, jailed and bound to federal district court under bond.

Kirwan appeared before Burke April 27, pleaded innocent and waived preliminary examination. The justice bound him to federal court under $500 on each of four charges. The court lacks jurisdiction pending affirmative action by the federal grand jury.

Kirwan, Democrat who is seeking reelection, blamed political opponents for his arrest.

"They arrested me in 1935 and in 1938," he said.

Gottlieb's affidavits, incorporated in the formal charges, allege the congressman "directly or indirectly" solicited $300 from Postmaster George E. Calhoun of Geneva and $240 from Postmaster L. D. Whitwood of Jefferson as "campaign contributions or contributions" to his 1938 election campaign. He is charged with receiving $50 from Calhoun as "part payment."

Kirwan and Edwin H. Gensler of Struthers, his 1938 campaign committee chairman, are charged jointly in two warrants with conspiring to solicit the money. Gensler is accused of directly demanding the sums and threatening to have their postoffice positions thrown open to competitive examinations on their failure to pay. One warrant charges this occurred in Whitwood's case.

NAMED TO ICC

WASHINGTON, May 2—J. Monroe Johnson, assistant secretary of commerce since 1935, was nominated by President Roosevelt today to be a member of the interstate commerce commission.

Former Crestline Man Accused in Fremont Murder

SENATE OVERRIDES VETO ON VETERANS' MEASURE

WASHINGTON, May 2—The senate overrode President Roosevelt on a veto today by a vote of 78 to 3 and wrote into law legislation to grant travel pay and food allowances for officers and men held in service in the Philippines after the war with Spain.

The house previously had overridden the President, 274 to 82.

The legislation has been disapproved three times by the President but the first two vetoes—in 1935 and 1938—were sustained by congress. A two-thirds vote is necessary to override a veto.

"PAY AS WE GO" BASIS URGED BY U. S. CHAMBER

WASHINGTON, May 2—A 24-point program topped by demands that further United States arming be expedited on a "pay as we go" basis was submitted to the United States Chamber of Commerce today by its resolutions committee.

Commending steps thus far taken to strengthen the army, navy and air forces, the resolutions group said it was imperative to speed up preparations so that "any potential aggressor, however powerful and ambitious, will be fearful to attack us."

Alpha Woessner, 31-year-old Crestline native, who is awaiting grand jury action at Fremont on a first degree murder charge filed this week, is pictured above in an International News photo.

Woessner left Crestline about seven or eight years ago shortly after the death of his father Robert, and has lived in Fremont since then with his mother. He is one of a family of eight children, two of whom are still living in Crestline. A twin sister was reported to have died several years ago.

Woessner attended school at Crestline and later did odd jobs. At Fremont he worked for a dry cleaning company and also as a stevedock.

He has pleaded not guilty to killing Walter Snyder, 23, Fremont sugar refinery worker, in an alley fight last Oct. 31. However, officials said he confessed under the lie detector examination. The fight allegedly was over a job of work. Woessner left Fremont early in November and joined the army. He was returned to Fremont jail about two weeks ago from Fort Sheridan, Ill., where he was confined in a hospital with injuries suffered in a fall. Snyder's body was found Dec. 7 in the Sandusky river and officials are still probing into how the body got there. Woessner has never explained.

Allies Still Able To Put Plenty of Fight in Norway

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The battle of Norway which blew up in our faces without warning is still showing sufficient vitality so that it wouldn't be safe to bet a lot that the Anglo-French Allies can't put fresh life into it—if they want to.

Personally I'd like to know a bit more about what's in the minds of the Allied command (and the political leaders) before writing an epitaph for this engagement.

The view this morning remained pretty foggy. Be that as may, one of the things we can see is that the Allies have received enough of a knock so that it would seem they must adopt one of two courses immediately. They will have to put on a really big show and try to blast the Hitlerites out of southern and central Norway, or must call it a day and withdraw from that part of the country.

In the latter case they presumably would maintain an expeditionary force in the Narvik region, way up within the Arctic circle. You know Narvik as the new famous port through which has been passing most of the Swedish iron ore that has gone to keep the German armament factories running. If the Allies can cut down the supply of this ore it will greatly lessen the enemy's resistance.

Obviously with the Germans holding Trondheim and backed by their air force, an allied assault on it would be a major operation. It also would be a risky adventure, for it would involve the employment of a large naval and air force.

But you can't play absolutely safe all the time and win wars. The martial tradition of England and France is not to quit. But there are times when discretion is the better part of valor.

Actually, Herr Hitler is likely to pay a fairly heavy price for the advantages which may accrue to him from his Norwegian victory—if that's what it proves to be.

He is burning up reserves, especially gasoline, which is worth more to him than liquid gold because of its scarcity. He soon will have to feed helpless Norway, just as he will have to care for Denmark, while that blockade keeps on squeezing and squeezing.

SPOKESMAN FOR HITLER REWARD GROUP GUARDED

PITTSBURGH, May 2—A plainclothes patrolman was stationed today at the home of Dr. Samuel Harden Church, 82-year-old president of Carnegie Institute who offered a $1,000,000 reward on behalf of unnamed Pittsburghers for the capture of Adolf Hitler, German chancellor.

Police Inspector Edward J. Brophy said the guard was established at the request of Dr. Church's son who expressed fear for his father's safety because he lived alone. Brophy said the son asserted, however, there had been no threats against his father.

CHICAGO MILK UNIONS STRIKE

A strike of 8,300 dairy workers and drivers cut off the milk supply of Chicago's citizens when members of the A. F. of L.'s milk wagon drivers' union walked out in protest against a proposed wage slash. The union forced suspension of all regular milk deliveries, but provided for deliveries to hospitals, orphanages and other institutions where a supply was vitally needed. 100 PERSONS AT COUNTRY CLUB STAY

Chilly Weather Hampers Golf Program Follows Dinner.

Marion Country club's May stay party and dinner yesterday attracted approximately 100 members. Although chilly weather hampered the golf tournament more than 25 played during the afternoon.

A dinner in the evening was followed by program of entertainment. Mrs. Golda Swope and Miss Virginia Grover presented instrumental selections.

Arrangements for the even which was the club's second stay party of the season, were handled by J. J. Huebner, chairman of the entertainment committee.

BISHOP HITS LIBERAL TRAINING IN COLLEGE

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 2—Bishop Adna Wright Leanos of Pittsburgh told delegates to a general conference of the Methodist church yesterday that "Christianity in some of our colleges is becoming so liberal that it is so polite it has no substance, so vague it has no vitality."

"Some of our schools of learning that were born in the heart of Methodism," he said, "have in the days of their greater financial prosperity forsaken the moths that gave them—and are no longer Methodist except vaguely name."

The state of the church committee asked the general conference to create in the Methodist churches courses of instruction for youth in "love and marriage, home budgeting and child training."

The ministry committee recommended that effective in 1942, Methodist pastors be compelled to retire at the age of 72.

Six Boys Selected To Represent
Marion at Boys' State in Columbus

Group Here To Be Among 700 at 10-Day Citizenship School at Ohio Fairgrounds.

Selection of six Marion boys to represent Bird-McGinnis Post No. 182 at the annual Boys' State sponsored by the American Legion was announced today. The six, together with representatives of other posts in the county and state, will attend a 10-day citizenship school at the state fairgrounds in Columbus which has come to be known as the Boys' State.

There will be more than 700 boys in all—and each has been chosen for self-reliance, personality, interest in civics, public speaking or debate and for scholarship and leadership.

Marion Post's List

The six from Bird-McGinnis post, together with the organization which are sponsoring their attendance at the Boys' State, are: James William Miller, Marion county children's home, sponsored by Marion Lodge No. 1489, Steel Workers' Organizing Committee, C.I.O.-affiliated union at the Marion Steam Shovel Co.

Eugene Theodore Schuler of 427 North Main street, sponsored by Knights of Columbus.

Richard Albrecht Howard of 247 Gurley avenue, sponsored by Bird-McGinnis Post.

Kenneth J. Sweeney of 627 Pearl street, sponsored by the Marion Lions club.

Edwin Smith of 342 Uncapher avenue, sponsored by the Marion Rotary club.

Claude Elwyn Gifford of 591 Summit street, sponsored jointly by the Marion Lodge of Elks and Buckeye Aerie No. 337, F. O. Eagles.

It is understood that Caledonia and LaRue Legion posts are also planning to send some representatives to Columbus.

Selected by Committee

The Marion post's boys were selected by a committee including E. H. Shade as chairman and Rev. Father William J. Spickerman, County School Supt. D. T. Mills and James E. Frew, principal of Thomas A. Edison Junior High school as members.

Selection of the boys was announced by J. W. Llewellyn, Boys' State chairman for the post.

All the boys are juniors in high school. Each will enter the Boys' State as a "free citizen" and may seek some elective office there. The boys actually organize into complete governmental units, with a governor and various officers, county and municipal officials and courts.

Purpose of the program is to teach the youth of Ohio the fundamental precepts of good government. It is designed to show the future citizens of Ohio the government as its founders thought it should operate.

In doing this the Legion also hopes in some measure to combat subversive influences among Ohio's youth.

NEW DEAL APPROVAL DEMOCRATS URGED

Water and Pittman Want
Roosevelt Indorsed.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, May 2.—Two senators, Wheeler of Nevada and Pittman of Oklahoma, urged today for indorsement of Roosevelt's administration. They said that the party platform should be changed to reflect the course which Roosevelt has taken.

platform to be adopted at the national convention. "must indorse the principles of the Roosevelt administration," but added that this "does not mean the indorsement of every piece of legislation sent to congress."

While platform talk was in the air, Postmaster General Farley arranged for a round of political conferences, including one with Vice President Garner. Both are candidates for the presidential nomination.

From Garner's campaign managers, E. B. Germany and Clara Driscoll, came a statement that the vice president's chances for the nomination "are improving daily."

It was issued following conclusion of an agreement between supporters of Garner and of President Roosevelt that the Texas delegation to the national convention would be pledged to Garner but would not participate in any "stop Roosevelt" movement.

At Ft. Worth, Tex., Elliott Roosevelt predicted that his father would not seek a third term unless the people demanded it.

The President's son, speaking by radio, forecast that the Chief Executive would delay any announcement of his intentions until July 15 or possibly during the July 15 Chicago convention.

Former Marion Couple To Mark 50th Anniversary

MR. AND MRS. E. E. TRUITT

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Truitt, residents of Marion for 40 years until they moved to Broadway in Union county in 1937, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary at their Broadway home Sunday.

A family dinner will be served at noon and an informal reception will be held from 2 p. m. to 3 p. m. for their friends and neighbors.

Among those present will be the one son of Mr. and Mrs. Truitt, Ernest Truitt of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Truitt were married in Logan county near West Middleburg on May 5, 1890. Mrs. Truitt, the former Miss Bertha Hemphill, lived in Logan county at that time while Mr. Truitt was from Union county.

They lived first at Broadway for several years then moved to Marion about 1898 and remained until 1937. Mr. Truitt, a carpenter, cabinet maker and contractor but now retired, is 71, and Mrs. Truitt is 68.

They made their home on Bennett street in Marion.

Oddities in the News

COWS AND COWSLIPS
WASHINGTON — There's discrimination somewhere — Uncle Sam will patent plants but he won't patent animals.

An aspiring Burbank who cross-breeds a new sweet pea of a species of sugar cane that gives better results of his labor. But the livestock breeder who cross-breeds animals and eventually stabilizes a new breed—such as milking Shorthorn cattle, the Boston bull terrier—falls out of luck.

The reason? Nobody ever tried to patent an animal. Horticulturists got congress to pass the plant patent law. Livestock breeders just don't seem to care. So, as matters stand, a new forage grass can get in the patent office register—but the cow that eats it can't.

MRS. SILVERWOOD DIES AT HOSPITAL
Delaware Ave. Resident Succumbs; Funeral Saturday.

Mrs. Grace M. Silverwood, 72, of 559 Delaware avenue, former resident of Delaware, died at 4 p. m. yesterday at the City hospital.

She was born in Marion Oct. 5, 1867, to Norman Spaulding, a native of Maryland, and Naomi Bowen Spaulding whose birthplace was Vermont. July 20, 1916 she was married to Horace A. Silverwood, whose death occurred Feb. 10, 1938. Prior to returning to Marion after the death of her husband, Mrs. Silverwood had lived in Delaware for 20 years.

She was a member of the Methodist church and Bay View Reading circle, and was a graduate of the Marion High school.

Surviving are two stepsons, O. J. Silverwood who has served as superintendent of the schools at Ellsworth, Kas. for the last 30 years, and Jay Silverwood of Delaware. Surviving also are a niece and two nephews, Mrs. G. E. Waddell and Willis W. Spaulding of Marion, and N. J. Spaulding of Los Angeles, Calif. The late W. B. Spaulding of Marion was a brother-in-law.

Funeral services will be conducted at 1 p. m. Saturday at the Schaffner-Deener funeral home, with Rev. D. N. Kelly, pastor of Wesley Methodist church officiating. Burial will be made in the Marion cemetery. The family requests that flowers be omitted. Friends may call at the funeral home after 8 o'clock tonight.

FARMER SEES LOVE TRYST, KILLS WIFE

Cripple Shoots as He Sees
Mate and Hand Embrace.

By The Associated Press
DOVER, O., May 2.—Roy Kail, crippled farmer, who confessed slaying his 40-year-old wife after watching her kiss and embrace a hired man in their barn, declared today that he shot her accidentally. Kail, 53, told Sheriff Wayne T. Host that he stationed himself at a "lookout" and watched his attractive wife and Roy Jones, 48, their farm hand.

"He was loving her, putting his arms around her and kissing her," Kail said. He said he ordered Jones to come out of the barn. "It's awful to make a mistake like that," the farmer sobbed in his cell. "Nellie was a good wife. She worked hard on our farm."

The gun must have gone off accidentally when she ran toward me to grab it," Kail said.

Mrs. Kail died a half-hour after being shot in the stomach. Sheriff Host took Kail to the farm home yesterday, where the husband reenacted the shooting. The sheriff said he would question the two men further before filing formal charges. Kail is now being held "for investigation" and Jones as a material witness.

The Kails lived on an 88-acre farm near Gilmore, 25 miles south of here. Kail, a former railroad fireman, and his wife had been married 20 years. They have no children.

He has been crippled five years by paralysis in one arm and one leg.

WORLD WAR NO. 1 FILM HEADS THEATER PROGRAM

A motion picture summary of the first World War, "When Germany Surrendered," has been booked for the featured spot on the Sunday-Monday program at the Marion theater and for showing at a Saturday midnight show.

Combined with scenes taken from the secret archives of the United States war department are films from similar sources of seven other great nations, Germany included, which were participants in the war.

It is presented, not as a Hollywood version but as the stark, real war, with a background of martial music and a running-fire commentary by the producer, A. L. Rule, a veteran of the American Expeditionary Forces, who produced it as an argument for the preservation of peace.

The other picture on the bill will be "Hawaiian Nights," featuring Mary Carlisle, Johnny Downs and Eddie Quillan.

2 ON CITY PAYROLL GET LEAVES FOR CAMPAIGN

City Safety-Service Director Clyde C. Caldwell announced today that John V. Ruth and W. Paul Coss of the service department staff are taking two-week leaves of absence without pay preliminary to the May 14 primary in which both are seeking nomination for elective offices.

Mr. Caldwell said the leaves were granted at the request of the candidates. Mr. Ruth, assistant city engineer, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for county engineer, and Mr. Coss, who is associated with the garbage department, is seeking the Republican nomination for county commissioner.

MAN GIVEN JAIL TERM FOR RESISTING OFFICER

Paul Hitecock, 44, of Marion was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail and fined $25 and costs by Municipal Judge Hazen yesterday afternoon when he pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication and resisting police officers.

Police reported that Hitecock was arrested for intoxication Tuesday afternoon and that he resisted Capt. E. C. Macken and Patrolman Jack Underhill while being booked at the police station.

Fried Chicken Real Treat

Fried chicken's good beyond doubt, but it needs trimmings, too, and here's one of the favorites—pineapple fritters.

PINEAPPLE FRITTERS
Three cups spoon-size chunks of canned Hawaiian pineapple, 1-2 cups all-purpose flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 egg, 1/2 to 3/4 cup milk, 1 tablespoon onion-flavored sugar.
Drain and dry spoon-size chunks of pineapple with absorbent paper. Sift flour, salt and baking powder; stir in well-beaten egg and milk. This batter should be just thick enough to coat the pineapple chunks. Heat fat (about 1 quart) in a deep-fat-bottom pan to 350° F. or until a cube of bread will brown in about 60 seconds. Then dip spoon-size chunks of pineapple in batter and fry in deep fat 2 or 3 minutes until a golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Sprinkle with powdered sugar before serving. Yield: 4 servings or 24 fritters.

AP Feature Service Writer

Springtime parties and fried chicken are about as perennial a combination as strawberries and cream.

You're safe in serving it at picnic, party or family get-together; people can always take another crispy, golden wing if they are the least bit hungry.

But, as in the preparation of many another popular food, schools and schisms have developed around the frying of chicken. You may have your own fetish, but you might like to look over the next chicken-fryer's back fence—might give you an inspiration. Here's a survey of several popular methods:

Batter deep fried chicken: Cut the fryer into quarters, wash and chill. When time to cook, dip into batter (1 cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, 1 egg and 2-3 cup milk, beaten together.) Carefully lower the batter-covered chicken into deep, hot fat so the fat covers the chicken by at least an inch. Fry about 15 minutes, turning the chicken several times. Drain and serve on a heated platter, surrounded with corn fritters and a glazed pineapple garnish. Pass broccoli with Hollandaise sauce; serve strawberry shortcake for dessert.

Low style: Put flour, salt and paprika into a paper sack, then put your cut chickens into the sack and shake until chicken is coated. Heat 4 tablespoons of fat in a frying pan. When it's hot put the chicken in and brown it quickly. Put in 3 tablespoons of butter and 1/4 cup of milk. Cover tightly and cook over a moderate fire for 20 minutes. Turn several times with a fork. Creamed new potatoes, buttered asparagus, hot rolls, green salad and lemon pie tie up deliciously with chicken fried low's way.

Old-fashioned style: Sprinkle salt and pepper over cut chickens, then lightly dust it with flour and brown it quickly in chopped bacon, molten in a frying pan. Cover tightly, lower heat and cook 30 minutes. Pour in 1/4 cup boiling water last 5 minutes of the cooking. Transfer chicken to heated serving platter. Mix 4 tablespoons of flour with chicken drippings in the pan, add 1 cup water and 2-3 cup milk and cook until creamy. Pour this over the chicken and surround with sweet potato fritters. Garnish with sliced pears. Serve buttered cauliflower surrounded by green beans, hot biscuits and currant jelly. Tomato jelly salad and stuffed angel food cake for the dessert.

Smothered Fried Chicken: Quickly brown cut-up floured chicken in 4 tablespoons of olive oil heated in a frying pan. Also brown 1/4 cup each of chopped onion and celery. Transfer to a well buttered casserole. Add 1/2 cup cream and 2-3 cup milk, sprinkle with salt, paprika and minced parsley and cover tightly. Bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven. Mix in a cup of mushrooms and bake 15 minutes. Uncover and bake 10 minutes to brown. Escalloped corn, buttered spinach, fruit salad and sponge cake round out this menu.

Fried Chicken Creole: Brown

floured and seasoned chicken in any kind of fat, heated in a frying pan. Transfer to a buttered baking dish, mix in 2-3 cup each of diced celery and boiled rice, 1/2 cup each of chopped onions and green peppers. Pour in 2 cups of tomatoes or tomato juice. Top with 3 tablespoons butter and cover. Bake 1 hour in a moderate oven. Uncover the last 10 minutes to brown. Serve with corn bread, buttered cabbage, fruit gelatin salad and baked cherry roll.

Fresh Asparagus Brings Delicacy To Many Tables

Dear Friends in Marion:
Fresh asparagus bisque: What delicacy could be more appropriate at the head of the menu to proclaim the springtime season.

The word delicacy is rightly used, for asparagus, king of the early green vegetables, dates back to ancient times, when it was a prized luxury, reserved for the enjoyment of kings and war chiefs. Asparagus is one of the world's oldest cultivated crops, for it was known to the ancient Greeks and Romans, and certainly was cultivated as early as 500 B. C.

Asparagus is one of the early arrivals of the food season and stays on through August. It is one of the most delicious, delicately flavored, wholesome and appetizing of all the vegetable crops.

The plant is a native of temperate regions and is best cultivated where low temperatures prevail during some period of the year. The plant is peculiar in that it needs periodic intervals of dormancy to attain normal development.

After cutting has stopped during the growing season, the asparagus plants store up reserve food materials in the roots. It is during the dormant period that important chemical changes take place in the reserve food supply, and greatly influence the plant's future development. If the asparagus is deprived of these dormant periods, development is not normal and the shoots may become less vigorous and more spindly from year to year.

Asparagus Takes On
The nation seemed to become asparagus-conscious in the decade from 1918 to 1928, for the increase in acreage in 1928 was more than three times the asparagus acreage cultivated 10 years earlier.

Three kinds of asparagus, relative to the color of the spears, are marketed. The spears may be entirely green, green with white bulbs, or entirely white. Nearly all the green asparagus is harvested with a small amount of white on the butt end. The entirely green product that is cut at the surface of the ground does not keep as well as that cut with a portion of the shoot underground. Since the part of the stem that is underground is more woody than the stem above ground, it loses moisture less rapidly than the tender green portion and adds to the keeping quality of the spears.

Asparagus is regarded as one of the most agreeable and effective of the spring tonics. Doctors agree that the eating of liberal quantities of asparagus each spring automatically furnishes the body with a tonic, blood builder and blood purifier. In fact, asparagus long has been recognized for its medicinal value along with its good taste and flavor, and more recently for its vitamin content. This vegetable is liberally supplied with calcium, phosphorus, iron and mineral salts required by the body for the invigorating effects needed by the bones, blood and body tissues. Also it is rich in a mild vegetable acid, known as asparagine. Asparagine has a very beneficial effect on the kidneys. Furthermore, asparagus is one of the green, bulky vegetable crops which add bulk to the diet and alkaline salts to the bloodstream.

The United States department of agriculture is authority for the statement that asparagus to be at its best must be fresh, tender and firm, with close, compact tips. A tender stalk is brittle and easily punctured. A wilted appearance, or a spreading tip is often an indication that considerable time has elapsed since cutting. Stalks of this type may or may not be freshened by placing in water. Usually they are waxy, only the tips being edible. Stalks that are angular in for more likely to be tough and stringy.

Often portions of the base can be rescued by peeling off the heavy skin, using these small sections for soup, green salad, or in cream sauce on toast. Asparagus with the liquid in which it was cooked, combines with chicken or veal stock for a delicious soup.

Cold asparagus tips are tops among left-overs, for they fit into numberless salad combinations with celery, cold meats, hard-cooked eggs, spaghetti, tomato and green vegetables. Serve them in cream sauce on buttered toast, or place asparagus tips on a thick slice of tomato, garnished with strips of pimiento and green pepper.

SPRING TREATS

Maple Mousse

One cup maple syrup, four eggs, separated, one pint of cream, whipped stiff, one teaspoon vanilla.

Beat yolks of eggs until very light, add syrup and cook until it thickens, stirring constantly. Place the dish in a pan of ice and stir until creamy. Add vanilla, beaten whites of eggs and whipped cream. Fill mold and pack in ice and salt using four parts of ice to one of salt. Let stand four hours. Or mousse may be frozen in automatic refrigerator.

Grapefruit Pie

One all-bran pastry shell, four tablespoons butter, three tablespoons flour, one-half teaspoon salt, one cup milk, three eggs, sepfruit juice, grapefruit sections, sugar and flavoring. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry and fold into first mixture. Pour into all-bran pastry shell and bake in slow oven, 300 degrees, about one hour. Yield: one 10-inch pie.

Creamed Ham and Asparagus
Left-over cooked ham, or deviled ham may be used in this spring appetizer, which may serve as the main dish for a luncheon. Deviled ham contributes restful flavor.

One bunch asparagus, three tablespoons butter, three tablespoons flour, one-eighth teaspoon paprika, dash pepper, one medium-sized can deviled ham, one and one-half cups milk, six slices toast.

Wash, prepare and cook asparagus until tender. Melt the butter in a sauce pan. Add the flour, stir until blended, then add the milk gradually while stirring constantly. When smooth and thickened, add the deviled ham, paprika and pepper. Pour over the hot asparagus, arranged on toast, and serve at once. Serves six. Heated canned tips may be used.

CHAPTER TWENTY-FIVE Mysterious Malady

THEY were something the matter with Adelaide.

She returned from her room looking as if she had been tested and found to be a dud. She was pale and her eyes were heavy. She had been in bed for a week, and she was still there.

But she had touched upon the one obsession of Adelaide's early life. She had no use for doctors, and less for hospitals. Her husband, it developed, had died on the operating table. All the stubbornness of her character concentrated itself on this point.

She sternly forbade the worried girls to call in a doctor; she refused the simple home remedies Isobel offered her.

"A Right To Protection"

By night she was able to dress herself though the ominous color still burned in her cheeks, and her eyes were too bright.

Mac, informed privately over Miss Ormond's telephone as to the situation, made short work of her.

"Look here, Adelaide, I'm going to call a doctor. No, I don't want to hear what you think of them—I don't want to hear anything as a matter of fact. Do you realize that the state of your health isn't entirely your own concern? You do keep a boardinghouse, after all. The people who live under your roof have a right to protection. It isn't fair. You may have something contagious, you know," he finished firmly.

It was the one argument which bore weight with her. For the sake of her beloved family she would submit to anything—or at any rate, to the calling of a physician.

"But promise me one thing," she said, seizing Mac feverishly by the wrist. "Promise me, no matter what the doctor says, you'll not send me to a hospital. I'd die—I'm perfectly sure I'd die—if I so much as went through the door of a hospital. Mac, promise!"

"I wish I could dear," he replied. "And I do promise this: that if it is not strictly necessary you shall not be moved."

Her usually soft eyes glared at him. "The consent of the patient must be obtained before—" she began.

"We won't talk of it now," he soothed her. "I haven't an idea you'll have to go to a hospital. It's probably just a touch of flu, or something like that. A few days in bed, and the right medicine, and you'll be as good as ever."

As he started toward the telephone she called to him. "Not Dr. VanNess, Mac! I won't have him! Not a neighbor, a friend! If I must have someone, listening to my heart and lungs I want it to be a stranger!"

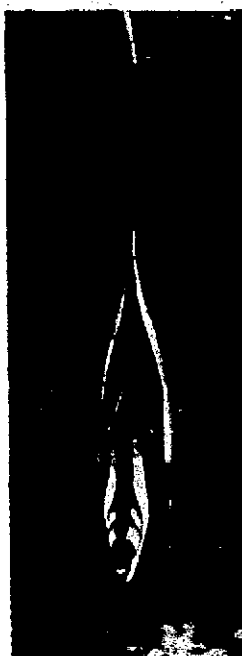

So Mac called a young physician whom he knew; and while Dr. Stern was busy with his rebellious patient upstairs, Adelaide's family waited anxiously downstairs for the verdict.

"I can't tell yet," he said when he joined them. "I'm having some blood tests made tomorrow. It looks like a low form of typhoid. But where on earth could she have got typhoid here?"

In concert they all started to tell him of the Springfield visit; then stopped abruptly and allowed Isobel to complete the tale.

"The woman she visited lives just out of town. I don't even know whether there was city water there, or not. She just got back yesterday, you see, and has been too unlike herself to tell us anything about it."

IT'S AN IDOL

"Monstrous as it seems, this fish is merely a Moorish Idol species from Hawaii swimming straight toward the camera, at the Sydney, New South Wales, aquarium."

Eric asked: "Shouldn't she be in a hospital?"

"Of course she should, but the very mention of it throws her into hysterics," the doctor said with impatience. "In her present condition I have no right to order her there. Well, we'll see tomorrow!"

Not Much Wiser

But they were not much wiser when the reports of the blood tests came in. They were slightly positive on several counts; undulant, typhoid, malaria.

"But she can't have them all!" cried Brenda.

"She doesn't, in fact, have any one of them," the doctor informed them gloomily. "This simply means she's been running a temperature for a long time so it's simulating any number of things. There's infection, of course. I'll have more tests made and we'll soon locate it."

But Adelaide's illness proved to be one of those unaccountable cases which baffle medical science. Try as he would Dr. Stern could find no focus of infection. Yet the fever rose daily, nausea and weakness persisted and Adelaide roused only to full consciousness when the word "hospital" was spoken in her hearing.

Brenda shoved her cardboard with its neatly drawn squares under the bed, and installed herself as nurse. Isobel relieved her but Isobel had her work to do. Both the men helped at night. Even Grenadine could be trusted now and then to sit by the bed and see that Adelaide's few wants were supplied.

And presently Brenda received reinforcements. Miss Ormond came over the third day of Adelaide's illness.

"I may be too old to teach but I'm not too old to help care for the sick," she announced grimly. "You look tired out, Brenda, child. Go take a good long nap while I stay with Adelaide."

Kindly Dr. VanNess came over every evening to hear young Stern's report. He said he understood perfectly that Adelaide might prefer a stranger to a friend in her illness. Maud came, too, and tried to take her turn at nursing but she spilled the entire bottle of alcohol over the patient when she tried to give her a rub, she could not pass the bed without bumping into it, and altogether Brenda concluded that Maud could be of more help outside the sickroom than in it.

"If you'd plan the meals for us and sort of superintend Grenadine now and then," she suggested.

One of the greatest surprises—though Brenda said afterward there were so many it was hard to grade them—was the efficiency of Mrs. Arnold's Dorothy. She came late one evening and insisted on sitting up with the patient during the night. She was so altered in appearance that Brenda's tired eyes had to look twice to recognize her. Her heavy hair had been cut and thinned, and the permanent was an accomplished fact. It was not becoming to her, as her benefactor never tired of pointing out. But to Dorothy herself it was the equivalent of a magic robe, and in her own eyes she walked in beauty since its attainment.

And she was an excellent nurse.

Induction Service Held for 47 New Members of National Honor Society

Harding High Students in 1940 Group Hear Talks by Faculty Members and Supt. Hudson.

Induction services for new members of the National Honor Society were held Wednesday night in the east hall at the high school with parents and friends of the candidates in attendance.

The candidates, who numbered 47, were led into the hall by faculty members taking part in the services, and Supt. C. A. Hudson and K. H. Marshall, high school principal, following them in the procession were the remaining members of the high school faculty.

Miss Lucile Foreman, acting as secretary, read a list of the students recommended by the faculty for membership and presented them to Mr. Marshall for induction into the honor society. Mr. Marshall was presented by Miss Isabel Freer, chairman of the society.

Principal Speaks

"You have been selected from a class of 315 and should count it an honor to have finished your school program ranking in the top third of your class," Mr. Marshall said in addressing the students. He told them the world had gone a long time without them and it was not waiting for them. "You place in the professional, business and civic life has to be based on your worth," he continued. "A world will pay you when you get out for what you can do and how much you will do." He emphasized the value of good, strong physical makeup, creative thinking, a strong spirit of Christianity and perspective.

Miss Freer told of the founding of the National Honor Society 10 years ago on the objectives fundamental in educational practice which she specified as scholarship, leadership, character and service, and cited as the emblem of the society the keystone and flaming torch.

Talks were given by the following faculty members: T. D. Bain, "Scholarship," Miss Dorothy Hanson, "Character," D. N. Boyer, "Leadership," Miss Mabel Turner, "Service." At each talk was completed a candle was lighted around a keystone.

Pays Tribute to Parents

"Enrollment in the National Honor Society is a tribute to the parents who made possible your public school education," Supt. Hudson told the students. He told the parents they should feel rewarded for what they had done toward making the young people successful. He prefaced his talk by saying he was particularly interested in the group since one of his own sons was a member.

In speaking to the parents he asked them to continue their interest in youth, saying that youth is beginning to find a place in the world more than ever before. He joined the teachers in expressing pride in the class and told the students "there is a great day ahead of you. Each must be prepared and able to do what you can do best in life, and when you discover what you can do best, sit up and hit it hard." He cited the present as a day of specialists, and said the students had already proven themselves to be specialists through their honor roll achievement. "The challenge of leadership is a very important one, he pointed out, and in extending his wishes for their success expressed the hope the students would not stop with the achievement of 12 years of public schooling.

The exercises closed with the formal induction ceremonies and the signing of the Harding chapter record. Membership cards were presented the students by J. H. Smith, faculty treasurer.

FOREST GIRL LEADS IN HARDIN CO. CONTEST

BALKANS GIVEN ITALIAN ASSURANCE

By The Associated Press
BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, May 2.—Italian and German diplomats today assured the Yugoslav government that any fears of aggression by these countries against the Balkan states are groundless. Similar assurances were delivered to other Balkan capitals.

These assurances seemed to produce a feeling of greater security in southeastern Europe, especially in Yugoslavia, where there has been much tension recently over the possibility of an Italian thrust.

The Balkan countries continued their military precautions, however, realizing the situation might change at any moment.

NAZIS REPORT HITS ON BRITISH FLEET

By The Associated Press
BERLIN, May 2.—The high command tonight reported hits on two British aircraft carriers and a destroyer when a strong British fleet unit approached the Norwegian west coast yesterday.

The communiqué said one aircraft carrier was hit "fully," the other heavily damaged and the destroyer also heavily hit.

STATE HEARING SET IN MARION LIQUOR CASE

Tuesday Hearing Result of Reported Sunday Purchases.

John Nicolosi, holder of the state liquor permit for the Lamar sale at 526 West Center street, today was ordered to appear before the state liquor board next Tuesday to show cause why his license should not be revoked. The Associated Press reported.

The order follows a visit of state liquor agents here three weeks ago at which time the agents arrested a Marion woman on a bootlegging charge and reported they purchased beer and whisky at the Lamar on Sunday.

Mr. Nicolosi was among 58 permit holders summoned to appear before the board next week, the news report stated. Forty-one of the group are from Sandusky county, a majority of them operators of business places in Fremont.

HATCH BILL ACTION BRINGS HOUSE BLAST

Congressman Attacks Committee for Secret Vote.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, May 2.—Rep. Rich, Republican of Pennsylvania, accused members of the house judiciary committee today of being "afraid to come out into the open" on their pigeon-holing of the Hatch political practices bill.

Rich, in a speech on the house floor, criticized both the committee's "secret vote" on the measure and parliamentary procedure used. The committee voted 14 to 10 yesterday to table the bill, regulating the political practices of some state employees, instead of on the direct question of whether it should be approved or disapproved.

"Why doesn't the committee come out into the open and say they're against the bill?" Rich shouted to the house.

Members of the committee, meanwhile, disclosed that the vote was cast in such secret fashion that members' handwriting was not involved.

They said each member was handed a slip of paper bearing the typewritten words "yes" and "no." Members tore the slips in half and returned to the clerk the desired portion.

The measure regulates the political activity of those state employees who are paid in whole or in part with federal funds.

MANSFIELD SENTENCES TWO INDIANA CONVICTS

By The Associated Press
MANSFIELD, O., May 2.—Two former Indiana convicts, captured in a 20-mile running gun battle here April 10, were sentenced today to one to 20 years in Ohio penitentiary for shooting at State Highway Patrolman W. C. Smith. No one was hurt in the bullet exchange.

The men, Stephen Janas, 28, of Burnham, Ill., and Roy Taylor, 32, of Niles, Mich., pleaded guilty. Smith said they were driving an auto stolen in Chicago.
